

Atlas 330

A Cosmological Field Computer

A founding document, architectural map, and open invitation to researchers, practitioners, and builders working at the intersection of Vedic sciences and living technology.

Version 0.1 — April 2026

atlas330.local · kanjira · Gainesville, Florida

Invocation

[Invocation to be written here.]

Contents

1	The Gap	5
1.1	What Has Been Built	5
1.2	What Has Not Been Built	5
1.3	Why Now	5
2	The Architecture of Atlas 330	6
2.1	The Epistemological Spine: Guru · Sadhu · Shastra	6
2.2	The Seven-Manḍala Structure	6
2.3	The NPU Relational Graph	6
2.4	The Field State: Tithi × Nakshatra as Computational Root	6
2.5	Domain Layers	7
2.5.1	Kāla — Cosmological Time	7
2.5.2	Bhūmi — Ecological Ground	7
2.5.3	Vāstu — Sacred Spatial Intelligence	7
2.5.4	Nāda — Sound as Field Expression	7
2.5.5	Deha — Embodied Knowledge	7
2.5.6	Vidyā — Knowledge Graph & Research	7
2.5.7	Lilā — Living Interface	7
2.6	Bandhu: Presence Without Oracle	7
2.7	Hardware: The Van-Mounted Field Computer	7
3	Research Fields and Living Datasets	8
3.1	Ethnobotany and Nakshatra-Plant Correspondences	8
3.2	Mound Cosmology and Sacred Geography	8
3.3	Sacred Water Geography	8
3.4	Ecoregions as Cosmological Territories	8
3.5	Astrobotany: Planetary Rhythms in Plant Biology	8
3.6	Vastu as Ecological Design	8
3.7	The Gaudiya Vaishnava Knowledge Frame	8
4	The Federated Vision	9
4.1	Traditional Knowledge Sovereignty	9
4.2	The Seva Economy: Auspicious Microtransactions	9
4.3	Mandala to Planting Pipeline	9
4.4	Atlas as Federation Node	9
4.5	Coherence Spectrum: The Civilizational Simulation	9
5	The Invitation	10
5.1	For Computational Jyotish Communities	10
5.2	For Sanskrit and Digital Humanities Scholars	10
5.3	For Biodynamic and Permaculture Practitioners	10
5.4	For Gaudiya Vaishnava Communities	10

5.5	For Hackerspaces and Open Hardware Builders	10
5.6	How to Connect	10
6	Appendix A: Current System State	11
7	Appendix B: Dataset Schemas	11
8	Appendix C: The Offering Cycle	11
9	Appendix D: Glossary	11
10	Appendix E: Bibliography and Source Lineages	11

1 The Gap

1.1 What Has Been Built

[Survey of existing open initiatives — to be written.]

1.2 What Has Not Been Built

[The gap statement — to be written.]

1.3 Why Now

[Why the moment is right — to be written.]

2 The Architecture of Atlas 330

2.1 The Epistemological Spine: Guru · Sadhu · Shastra

[GSS model description — to be written.]

2.2 The Seven-Maṇḍala Structure

[Seven-mandala description — to be written.]

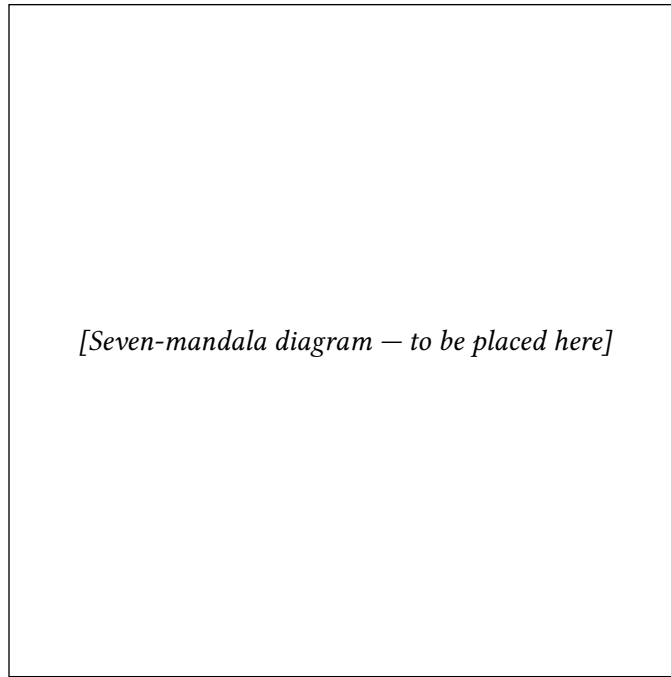

Figure 1: The seven-maṇḍala structure of Atlas 330 domains.

2.3 The NPU Relational Graph

[Graph architecture description — to be written.]

2.4 The Field State: Tithi × Nakshatra as Computational Root

[Field state architecture — to be written.]

2.5 Domain Layers

2.5.1 Kāla — Cosmological Time

[Kāla domain — to be written.]

2.5.2 Bhūmi — Ecological Ground

[Bhūmi domain — to be written.]

2.5.3 Vāstu — Sacred Spatial Intelligence

[Vāstu domain — to be written.]

2.5.4 Nāda — Sound as Field Expression

[Nāda domain — to be written.]

2.5.5 Deha — Embodied Knowledge

[Deha domain — to be written.]

2.5.6 Vidyā — Knowledge Graph & Research

[Vidyā domain — to be written.]

2.5.7 Līlā — Living Interface

[Līlā domain — to be written.]

2.6 Bandhu: Presence Without Oracle

[Bandhu philosophy — to be written.]

2.7 Hardware: The Van-Mounted Field Computer

[Hardware philosophy — to be written.]

3 Research Fields and Living Datasets

3.1 Ethnobotany and Nakshatra-Plant Correspondences

[Dataset documentation — to be written.]

3.2 Mound Cosmology and Sacred Geography

[Dataset documentation — to be written.]

3.3 Sacred Water Geography

[Dataset documentation — to be written.]

3.4 Ecoregions as Cosmological Territories

[Dataset documentation — to be written.]

3.5 Astrobotany: Planetary Rhythms in Plant Biology

[Dataset documentation — to be written.]

3.6 Vastu as Ecological Design

[Dataset documentation — to be written.]

3.7 The Gaudiya Vaishnava Knowledge Frame

[GV knowledge frame — to be written.]

4 The Federated Vision

4.1 Traditional Knowledge Sovereignty

[Traditional knowledge sovereignty architecture — to be written.]

4.2 The Seva Economy: Auspicious Microtransactions

[Seva economy architecture — to be written.]

4.3 Mandala to Planting Pipeline

[Mandala-to-planting pipeline — to be written.]

4.4 Atlas as Federation Node

[Federation architecture — to be written.]

4.5 Coherence Spectrum: The Civilizational Simulation

[Coherence Spectrum vision — to be written.]

5 The Invitation

5.1 For Computational Jyotish Communities

[Jyotish community invitation — to be written.]

5.2 For Sanskrit and Digital Humanities Scholars

[DH community invitation — to be written.]

5.3 For Biodynamic and Permaculture Practitioners

[Biodynamic community invitation — to be written.]

5.4 For Gaudiya Vaishnava Communities

[GV community invitation — to be written.]

5.5 For Hackerspaces and Open Hardware Builders

[Hackerspace community invitation — to be written.]

5.6 How to Connect

[Connection details — to be written.]

6 Appendix A: Current System State

[System audit snapshot — to be written.]

7 Appendix B: Dataset Schemas

[Dataset schemas — to be written.]

8 Appendix C: The Offering Cycle

[Offering cycle documentation — to be written.]

9 Appendix D: Glossary

[Glossary — to be written.]

10 Appendix E: Bibliography and Source Lineages

[Bibliography — to be written.]